V. Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1-17	YES
	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	1-17	YES
	Claims		NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-17	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations

1. WO0181119A (document D1) discloses a steering column assembly module for a motor vehicle, with a steering angle sensor inserted in the module housing. The rotor of the steering angle sensor works in conjunction with a steering column and co-operates with at least one fixed measuring means of which changes in the steering column are detected by a stator consisting of electronic measuring sensors connected to the on-board computer via a central printed circuit board in the steering column module. At least one measuring gear is mounted in a housing.

The subject matter of claim 1 differs from this known steering column module in that:

- the measuring sensors are mounted on the printed circuit board;
- the housing is fixed to the printed circuit board.

The mounting of the measuring sensors on the printed circuit board serves to separate the mechanical and electronic components of the steering angle sensor. Such a procedure is not suggested by the prior art.

Claims 2 to 17 relate to special embodiments of the invention according to claim 1. The subject matter of these claims therefore also involves an inventive step.

2. Claim 1 is drafted in the two-part form, but the feature according to which at least one measuring gear is mounted in a housing should not have been placed in the characterising part of the claim because it is disclosed in WO0181119A (D1) together with the features set out in the preamble (PCT Rule 6.3(b)).

Claim 4 should only refer back to claim 3 because the latter is the only claim in which the second measuring gear (31) is specified.

Claim 10 should refer back to claim 9 because the cage is specified in claim 9.

Contrary to the requirements of PCT Rule 5.1(a)(ii), the description does not cite document D1 or give an account of the relevant prior art disclosed therein.
